PREPARATORY COURSE.

Those desiring to enter this School, who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic—namely, Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution, should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement at the time of admission to the Preparatory Course are admitted on any day of the term, and are placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination.

Each applicant before being received must furnish satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are three regular examinations during the course of study during the term: the first, during the week before Christmas; the second, during the week before Easter; the third, during the week before the close of the term. There are written and oral examinations held monthly, for the purpose of testing the progress of the students, and stimulating their efforts and performing the duties of the term.

Patrons and friends are invited to be present on Examination days.

TEXT BOOKS.

For text books used in the several departments, see Courses of study. None but the best and most widely approved works are adopted, and changes in these are made from time to time to keep pace with the progress of learning.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Courses at the same time, and will be entitled to a diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that Course, or their equivalent.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Institution has two Literary Societies—the “Excelsior,” a male, and the “Musa,” a female society—which meet on Friday evening of each week, and afford an opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

There is a Library and Reading Room, which is aiding its efforts to promote the intelligence of its students.

STUDENT DUTIES.

Students must attend public worship on Sundays, at 9 A. M. on school days for so required to attend daily

BY.

Students are required to devote such a portion of their time to the thorough preparation of their lessons as to better secure this result. (Friday excepted)

GENERAL

HISTORY

St. Augustine's Normal School was incorporated July, 1867, and of its chief object is to afford young men an opportunity for obtaining a thorough academic education, and preparing them for efficient service, and the Holy Ministry.

COURSES OF

The three Courses of Study are the Academic, the Scientific, and the Theological.

The extent of the Academic Department of studies presented. It embraces History, Mathematics to Trigonometry, and the Classics as is necessary to make the student acquainted with the important facts and theories of Science, and to attain thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is adapted to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Lectures are taken to make the instruction thorough, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with the lectures will be given on the Methods of Teaching, Organization and Management of Schools, &c.

The course in the Theological Department is adapted to the wants of the Ministry. It includes the Prayer Book and Bible, Christian Divinity, Ecclesiastical History, &c.

already afforded for a large number of both day and boarding pupils. The Trustees have determined to replace the wooden buildings which were burned by the immediate erection of substantial structures of brick.

TERMS.

Students will be charged $8.00 per month, payable in advance, for tuition, board, washing, lights, and fuel. Special arrangements may be made by which students shall be admitted at half rates. Such students will be required to give a portion of their time, each day if necessary, to manual labor at the School and on the grounds. They will be called upon, however, to perform no services that are excessive and calculated to hinder them in their studies.

It is very important for pupils from a distance to board in the School. They thus secure, among other benefits, better accommodations at a cheaper rate, punctual attendance in all states of the weather, regular hours for study and recreation, and the restraining influences of the School discipline.

Students, not boarders, will be charged one dollar a month for tuition.

Candidates for Holy Orders and others, preparing for the Ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who have the approval of the Rector of the Parish, or of the Bishop of the Diocese in which they live, will be received free of all charges for board and tuition; and, after completing the Academic Course, they will be instructed in such studies as shall fit them for their sacred calling.

CALENDAR.

The next term will begin on Thursday, the 13th of September, 1883, and continue until the first Thursday in June, 1884.

—GENERAL+INFORMATION—

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine's Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its three-fold object is to afford young men and women superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated in a large oak grove, upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site, near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Prayer Book and Bible, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History, and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern, Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and Management of Schools, &c.

PREPARATORY COURSE

Those desiring to enter this School, who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic—namely, Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution, should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement above the Preparatory Course are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant before being received is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: the first, during the week beginning with the fifth Monday in January; the second, during the last week in May. Besides these, there are written and oral examinations of the various classes monthly, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts and performing the best work possible.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution, and to be present at the Examinations.

TEXT BOOKS.

For text books used in the several departments, see Courses of Study. None but the best and most widely approved works are adopted, and changes in these are made from time to time to keep pace with the progress of learning.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Courses at the same time, and will be entitled to a diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that Course, or their equivalent.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Institution has two Literary Societies—the “Excelsior,” for the males, and the “Musa,” for the females—which meet on Friday evening of each week, and afford an opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Institution has also a Library and Reading Room, which are regarded as materially aiding its efforts to promote the intelligence and liberal education of its students.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES.

All students are required to attend public worship and Bible Reading on Sundays, and to be present in the Chapel at 9 A. M. on school days for devotional exercises. Boarders are also required to attend daily Morning and Evening Prayer.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons for recitation. In order to better secure this result, a study is held each school day evening (Friday excepted) from 7½ to 9 o'clock, under the direction of one or more of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each morning, after devotional exercises, by an instruction from the Principal or one of the Professors on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Societies and the School, on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, &c.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct prove the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his Assistants and the Matron.

REGULATIONS.

REQUIREMENTS.

Students are required:

1. To comply promptly with all the regulations for the promotion of health, cleanliness and good order.
2. To attend every recitation and other exercise assigned, while on the grounds, unless specially excused.
3. To observe strictly the hours of study and rest, as prescribed by the Principal or his assistants.
4. To put their respective rooms in order before Morning Prayers, and to have them at all times open to the inspection of the Matron or any of the Teachers.
5. To make good all damage done by them to the buildings or furniture.
6. To rise in the morning at the ringing of the first bell, put their rooms in order and prepare for Prayers.

7. To behave respectfully to Teachers and others.

8. All labor performed must be satisfactory or done over in recreation time.

PROHIBITIONS.

Students are not allowed :

1. To leave the grounds of the Institution without permission.

2. To send or receive mail of any kind except through the Principal or Matron.

3. To call on or hold conversation with those of the opposite sex in the school-rooms or on the grounds, without special permission.

4. To transfer themselves from one class to another, or to drop or take up studies without permission.

5. To drink intoxicating liquors unless prescribed by a physician, to visit drinking saloons and like places of resort, or to use profane or indecent language.

6. To smoke or use tobacco in any form in the rooms, halls and passages or grounds of the Institution.

7. To deface the buildings, inside or outside, by marking, whittling, or in any other way.

8. To have fire-arms or any kind of deadly weapon.

BUILDINGS.

Efforts are being made to erect suitable and commodious buildings in the place of those destroyed by fire March 6th, 1883. In the meantime accommodations are provided in the Smith Building, the Principal's house and the Peck Building.

TERMS.

Students will be charged $8.00 per month, payable in advance, for tuition, board, washing, lights and fuel. Special arrangements may be made by which students shall be admitted at $5.00 per month. Such students will be required to give a portion of time, each day, to manual labor at the School, or on the grounds.

Instrumental Music $2.00 per month ; use of instrument 25 cents per month.

It is very important for pupils from a distance to board in the School. They thus secure, among other benefits, better accommodations at a cheaper rate, punctual attendance in all states of the weather, regular hours for study and recreation, and the restraining influences of the School discipline.

Students, not boarders, will be charged one dollar a month for tuition.

Postulants and Candidates for Holy Orders, preparing for the Ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who have the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese in which they live, will be received at half rates for board and tuition ; but subject to such regulations as others with reference to manual labor as the Principal may direct.

CALENDAR.

The next term will begin on Thursday, the 11th of September, 1884, and continue until the first Thursday in June, 1885.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine's Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its three fold object is to afford young men and women superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated in a large oak grove, upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site, near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The Institution has now, besides the residence of the Principal, a new building of bricks, four stories high, 85 feet front by 44 feet deep, with a supply of water on each floor. In this building are the study and class rooms, the temporary Chapel and the lodging rooms for the male students, with the Library and Principal's office. The rooms are all large and airy, and in the highest degree adapted to comfort and health. There is also the Smith building, formerly the residence of the late Rev. Dr. J. B. Smith, which is used for the dormitories of the young ladies, and also contains the kitchen and dining room. It was built with especial reference to comfort and convenience.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Prayer Book and Bible, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History, and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern, Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and Management of Schools, &c.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic—namely, Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement above the Preparatory Course are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant before being received is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: the first, beginning with the first Monday in February; the second, beginning the last Monday in May. Besides these, there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts and performing the best work possible.

For promotion to a higher class, an average of 70 per cent. in each study is necessary.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution at any time and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Courses at the same time, and will be entitled to a Diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that Course, or their equivalent.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies—the “Excelsior” for the males and the “Musa” for the females—which meet on Friday evening of each week, and afford an opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library and Reading Room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Library of the School, which now numbers about one thousand three hundred volumes, with the library of the Principal consisting of over 2,000 volumes, is open to the students.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES.

On Sundays the Boarders attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's church, and in the afternoon Sunday school and public worship in the school chapel. All students are required to be present in the chapel at quarter before nine a. m. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons for recitation. In order to better secure this result, a study is held each school day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, under the direction of one or more of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each morning, after devotional exercises, by an instruction from the Principal or one of the Instructors on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Societies and the School, on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct prove the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his Assistants, and the Matron.

REGULATIONS—REQUIREMENTS.

Students are required—

1. To comply promptly with all the regulations for the promotion of health, cleanliness and good order.
2. To attend every recitation and other exercise assigned, unless specially excused.

3. To observe strictly the hours of study and rest, as prescribed by the Principal or his Assistants.

4. To rise in the morning at the ringing of the first bell, put their rooms in order and prepare for prayers.

5. To make good all damage done by them to the buildings or furniture.

6. To behave respectfully to teachers and others.

7. All labor performed must be satisfactory or done over in recreation time.

8. All clothes to be marked with the owner's full name.

PROHIBITIONS.

Students are not allowed—

1. To leave the grounds of the Institution without permission.

2. To send or receive mail of any kind except through the Principal or Matron.

3. To call on or hold conversation with those of the opposite sex in the school-rooms or on the grounds, without special permission.

4. To transfer themselves from one class to another, or to drop or take up studies without permission.

5. To drink intoxicating liquors unless prescribed by a physician, to visit drinking saloons and like places of resort, or to use profane or indecent language.

6. To smoke or use tobacco in any form in the rooms, halls and passages or grounds of the Institution.

7. To deface the buildings, inside or outside, by marking, whittling, or in any other way.

8. To have fire-arms or any kind of deadly weapon.

9. To throw water or anything else from the windows.

They thus secure, among other benefits, better accommodations at a cheaper rate, punctual attendance in all states of the weather, regular hours for study and recreation, and the restraining influences of the School discipline.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its three-fold object is to afford young men and women superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The Institution has now, besides the residence of the Principal, a new building of brick, four stories high, 85 feet front by 44 feet deep, with a supply of water on each floor. In this building are the study and class rooms, the temporary Chapel and the lodging rooms for the male students, with the Library and Principal's office. The rooms are all large and airy, and in the highest degree adapted to comfort and health. There is also the Smith building, formerly the residence of the late Rev. Dr. J. B. Smith, which is used for the dormitories of the young ladies, and also contains the kitchen and dining room. It was built with special reference to comfort and convenience.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Prayer Book and Bible, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern, Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and Management of Schools, &c.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic, namely: Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement above the Preparatory Course are admitted on any day of the session and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant before being received is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: The first, beginning the last Monday in January; the second, beginning the first Monday in June. Besides these there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts and performing the best work possible.

For promotion to a higher class, an average of 75 per cent. in each study is necessary.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution at any time and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Courses at the same time, and will be entitled to a Diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that Course, or their equivalent, upon the payment of $2.00.

SOCIETIES.

The J. Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

St. Augustine's Guild is an association which serves to instil into the minds and hearts of its members missionary zeal by acquiring information from the field and working among the population around the Institution, gathering the children into the Sunday-school, and, so far as practicable, ministering to the poor, the sick and the afflicted.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library and Reading Room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Library of the School, which now numbers about one thousand three hundred volumes, with the library of the Principal, consisting of over two thousand volumes, is open to the students.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES.

On Sundays the Boarders attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and public worship in the school chapel. All students are required to be present in the chapel at quarter before 9 a. m. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons for recitation. In order to better secure this result, a study is held each school-day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, under the direction of one or more of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each morning after devotional exercises, by an instruction from the Principal or one of the Instructors on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Societies and the School, on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct proves the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his Assistants and the Matron.

REGULATIONS—REQUIREMENTS.

Students are required—

1. To comply promptly with all the regulations for the promotion of health, cleanliness and good order.
2. On Sundays to attend Divine worship in St. Augustine's Church in the morning, and Sunday-school and Evening Prayer in the Chapel of the School in the afternoon and evening.

During the week to attend Morning and Evening Prayer each day in the Chapel.

3. To attend every recitation and other exercise assigned, unless specially excused.
4. To observe strictly the hours of study and rest, as prescribed by the Principal or his Assistants.
5. To rise in the morning at the ringing of the first bell, put their rooms in order and prepare for prayers.

7. To behave respectfully to teachers and others.
8. All labor performed must be satisfactory or done over in recreation time.
9. All clothes to be marked with the owner's full name.

PROHIBITIONS.

2. To send or receive mail of any kind except through the Principal or Matron.

3. To call on or hold conversation with those of the opposite sex in the school-rooms, halls or on the grounds, without special permission.

4. To transfer themselves from one class to another, or to drop or take up studies without permission.

5. To drink intoxicating liquors unless prescribed by a physician, to visit drinking saloons and like places of resort, or to use profane or indecent language.

6. To smoke or use tobacco in any form in the rooms, halls and passages or grounds of the Institution.

7. To have in their possession or play cards, or any game of chance.

8. To deface the buildings, inside or outside, by marking, whittling, or in any other way.

9. To have fire-arms or any kind of deadly weapon.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Prayer-Book and Bible, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern—Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and management of Schools, &c.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic, namely: Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement above the Preparatory Course are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant, before being received, is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: The first, beginning the last Monday in January; the second, beginning the first Monday in June. Besides these there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts, and performing the best work possible.

For promotion to a higher class, an average of 75 per cent. in each study is necessary.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution at any time, and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Departments at the same time, and will be entitled to a Diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that course, or their equivalent, upon the payment of $2.00.

SOCIETIES.

The J. Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

St. Augustine's Guild is an association which serves to instil into the minds and hearts of its members missionary zeal by acquiring information from the field, and working among the population around the Institution, gathering the children into the Sunday-school, and, so far as practicable, ministering to the poor, the sick and the afflicted.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library and Reading Room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Library of the School, which now numbers about one thousand five hundred volumes, with the Library of the Principal, consisting of over two thousand volumes, is open to the students.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES.

On Sundays the boarders attending public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and public worship in the school chapel. All students are required to be present in the chapel at quarter before 9 a. m. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons for recitation. In order to better secure this result, a study is held each school-day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, under the direction of one or more of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each day by instruction from the Principal or one of the instructors on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Societies and the School, on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct proves the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his assistants, and the matron.

General Information.

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its threefold object is to afford young men and women, of the colored race, superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site, near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The buildings of the Institution are four: The Main School building, the Smith building, the Principal's and the Vice-Principal's residences. The Main School building is a new structure of brick, four stories high, 85 feet front by 44 feet deep. It contains all the class-rooms, the temporary chapel, the Principal's office, the library, and all the lodging-rooms for the male students. The rooms are all large and airy, and in the highest degree adapted to comfort and health. There is a supply of water on each floor. The Smith building, formerly the commodious residence of the late Rev. Dr. J. B. Smith, the founder of the Institution, contains the lodging-rooms of the female students, a study hall, kitchen, store-room and dining-room for all the students. It was built with special reference to comfort and convenience.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Bible and Prayer-Book, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern—Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and management of Schools, &c.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic, namely: Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant, before being received, is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: The first in January; the second in May. Besides these there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts, and performing the best work possible.

For promotion to a higher class, a satisfactory examination on all the studies of the lower class is necessary.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution at any time, and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Departments at the same time, and will be entitled to a Diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that course, or their equivalent, upon the payment of $2.00.

SOCIETIES.

The J. Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

St. Augustine's Guild is an association which serves to instil into the minds and hearts of its members missionary zeal by acquiring information from the field, and working among the population around the Institution, gathering the children into the Sunday-school, and, so far as practicable, ministering to the poor, the sick and the afflicted.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

The Library and Reading-room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Library of the School, which now numbers about one thousand five hundred volumes, with the Library of the Principal, consisting of over two thousand volumes, is open to the students.

The attention of the friends of the Institution is called to the importance of increasing the Library by donation of books or contributions to the Library Fund. Among other gifts during the past year, a full set of the Speaker's Commentary in ten volumes is greatly appreciated.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the chapel. On Sundays the boarders attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and public worship in the school chapel. All students are required to be present in the chapel at quarter before 9 A. M. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons. In order to secure this result, a study is held each school-day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, under the direction of one or more of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each day by instruction from the Principal, or one of the instructors, on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Society and the School, on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Instruction in Dress-making is given to all the girls in the Boarding Department. During the past year this new feature has been taken hold of with great earnestness.

The carpenters' work of the residence of the Vice-Principal, which is now approaching completion, has been performed by the students; and in this way much useful and practical instruction has been given and experience gained.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct proves the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his assistants, and the Matron.

The provisions furnished in the Boarding Department are plain, but healthful and abundant. Boxes containing eatables are unnecessary and nearly always hurtful to the health of the recipient and to the discipline of the School. Parents and friends are asked not to send them. They will be at all times subject to the inspection of the Principal and the Matron.

It is earnestly hoped that parents and guardians will discourage all extravagance in dress, which should be plain, simple and neat. An effort will be made during the coming year to provide material for a uniform dress for the girls at a moderate price, the work of making up to be done in the Dress-making Department.

REGULATIONS—REQUIREMENTS.

Students are required:

1. To comply promptly with all the regulations for the promotion of health, cleanliness and good order.
2. On Sundays to attend Divine worship in St. Augustine's Church in the morning, and Sunday-school and Evening Prayer in the Chapel of the School in the afternoon and evening. During the week to attend Morning and Evening Prayer each day in the Chapel.
3. To attend every recitation and other exercise assigned, unless specially excused.
4. To observe strictly the hours of study and rest, as prescribed by the Principal or his assistants.
5. To rise in the morning at the ringing of the first bell, and prepare their rooms for inspection.
6. To make good all damage done by them to the building or furniture.
7. To behave respectfully to teachers and others.
8. All labor performed must be satisfactory, or done over in recreation time.
9. All clothes to be marked with the owner's full name.

PROHIBITIONS.

Students are not allowed:

General Information.

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its threefold object is to afford young men and women, of the colored race, superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site, near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The buildings of the Institution are four: The Main School building, the Smith building, the Principal's and the Vice-Principal's residences. The Main School building is a new structure of brick, four stories high, 85 feet front by 44 feet deep. It contains all the class-rooms, the temporary chapel, the Principal's office, the library, and all the lodging-rooms for the male students. The rooms are all large and airy, and in the highest degree adapted to comfort and health. There is a supply of water on each floor. The Smith building, formerly the commodious residence of the late Rev. Dr. J. B. Smith, the founder of the Institution, contains the lodging-rooms of the female students, a study hall, kitchen, store-room and dining-room for all the students. It was built with special reference to comfort and convenience, and has recently had water introduced into it.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Bible and Prayer-book, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern—Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and management of Schools, &c.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic, namely: Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant, before being received, is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: The first in January; the second in May. Besides these there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time; for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts, and performing the best work possible.

For promotion to a higher class, a satisfactory examination on all the studies of the lower class is necessary.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution at any time, and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Departments at the same time, and will be entitled to a Diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that course, or their equivalent, upon the payment of $2.00.

SOCIETIES.

The J. Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

The Library and Reading-room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Library of the School, which now numbers about one thousand five hundred volumes, with the Library of the Principal, consisting of over two thousand volumes, is open to the students.

The attention of the friends of the Institution is called to the importance of increasing the Library by donation of books or contributions to the Library Fund.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarders attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and public worship in the school chapel. All students are required to be present in the chapel at half past 8 A. M. on school-days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book and Hymnal.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons. In order to secure this result, a study is held each school-day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, under the direction of one or more of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each day in instruction by the Principal, or one of the Instructors, on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Society and the School on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Instruction in Dress-making is given to all the girls in the Boarding Department. During the past year this new feature has been taken hold of with great earnestness.

There is a carpenters' shop, in which work is done in the way of repairs, etc. In addition to this, there is work in the garden and on the grounds of the Institution.

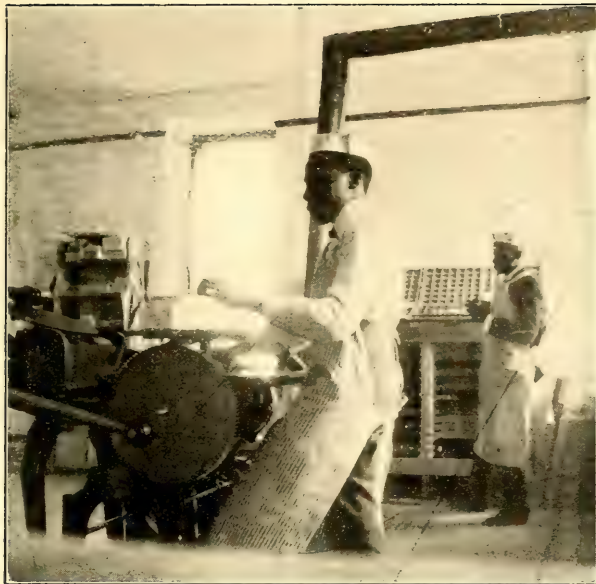

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct proves the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his assistants, and the Matron.

By a judicious use of such incentives as a Roll of Honor for those whose average in Studies, Deportment and Punctuality is 90 or over, and merit marks; and also of demerit marks for violation of rules and tardiness, it is sought to stimulate the students to gain all the advantages of the Institution, and fit them to become valuable members of society. When these means do not produce their legitimate effect in studiousness, deportment and punctuality, the name will be stricken from the roll.

The provisions furnished in the Boarding Department are plain, but healthful and abundant. Boxes containing eatables are unnecessary and nearly always hurtful to the health of the recipient and to the discipline of the school. Parents and friends are asked not to send them. They will be at all times subject to the inspection of the Principal and the Matron.

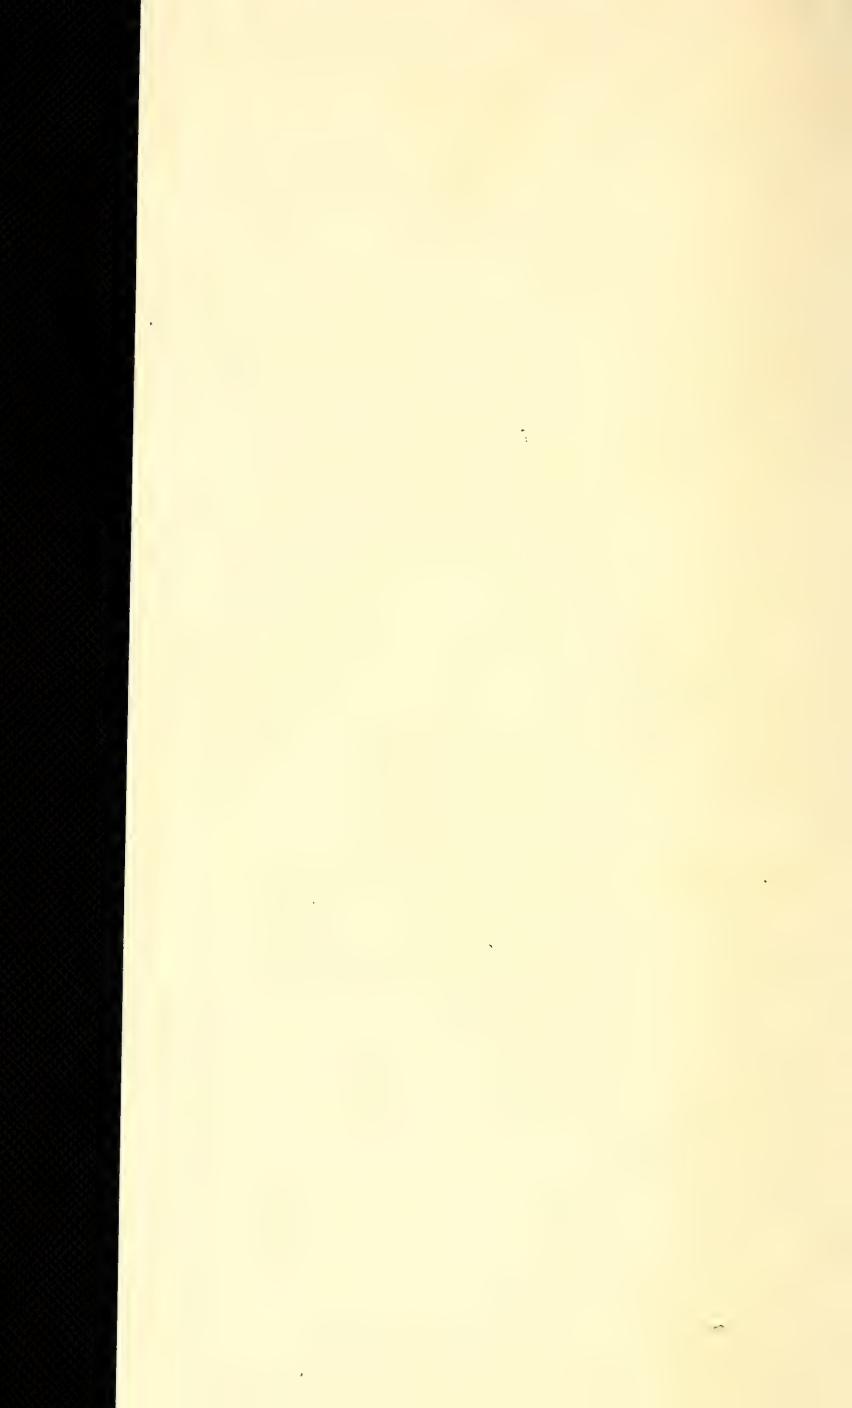

In order to discourage extravagance and display in dress, a uniform has been adopted for the girls, consisting of a

PRINTING OFFICE.

CARPENTER SHOP.

dark-blue tricot dress, which can be made in the Dress-making Department, with a dark-blue felt hat for winter or a white sailor hat for summer. The dress at the closing exercises should be white. It is very desirable that every girl should have an umbrella, a waterproof and overshoes.

General Information.

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its threefold object is to afford young men and women, of the colored race, superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site, near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The buildings of the Institution are five: The Main School building, the Smith building, the Principal's and Vice-Principal's residences and the Industrial building. The Main School building is a new structure of brick, four stories high, eighty-five feet front by forty-four feet deep. It contains all the class-rooms, the temporary chapel, the Principal's office, the library, and all the lodging-rooms for the male students. The rooms are all large and airy, and in the highest degree adapted to comfort and health. There is a supply of water on each floor. The Smith building, formerly the commodious residence of the late Rev. Dr. J. B. Smith, the founder of the Institution, contains the lodging-rooms of the female students, kitchen, store-room and dining-room for all the students. It was built with special reference to comfort and convenience, and has recently had water introduced into it.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Bible and Prayer-book, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History—Ancient and Modern—Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the methods of Teaching, the Organization and management of Schools, etc.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department, are admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course. No classes, however, are formed below this grade.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be able to read and write, and have a knowledge of the fundamental operations of Arithmetic, namely: Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. They must also be familiar with the first lessons in Geography, and prepared to commence the study of Grammar.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the Institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission.

Persons of any state of advancement are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

Each applicant, before being received, is required to present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: The first in January; the second in May. Besides these there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts, and performing the best work possible.

For promotion to a higher class, a satisfactory examination on all the studies of the lower class is necessary.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the Institution at any time, and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Any student may pursue studies in both the Academic and Normal Departments at the same time, and will be entitled to a Diploma from either Department on the completion of the studies of that course, or their equivalent, upon the payment of $2.00.

SOCIETIES.

The J. Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

The Library and Reading-room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Reading-room is provided with the daily papers and monthly magazines and fixed hours are set apart for its use.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding-students attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and at night public worship in the school chapel. All students are required to be present in the chapel at half past 8 A. M. on school-days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday-school instruction-book.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons. In order to secure this result, a study is held each school-day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock, under the direction of one of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each day in instruction by the Principal, or one of the Instructors, on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Society and the School on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Instruction in sewing or in Dress-making is given to all the girls in the Boarding Department. During the past year a special building has been erected for the young men's Industrial Department, containing a shoe-shop, carpenter's shop and tinsmith's shop. Practice and instruction have been had in these trades and it is hoped to extend the industrial feature still further during the coming year.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct proves the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his assistants, and the Matron.

By a judicious use of such incentives as a Roll of Honor for those whose average in Studies, Deportment and Punctuality is 90 or over, and merit marks; and also of demerit marks for violation of rules and tardiness, it is sought to stimulate the students to gain all the advantages of the Institution, and fit them to become valuable members of society. When these means do not produce their legitimate effect in studiousness, deportment and punctuality, the name will be stricken from the roll.

An earnest endeavor will be made to provide a wholesome table, so that the bodies of the students may be fitted to serve the mind and spirit which it is the aim of the School to train.

In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear on all public occasions the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark-blue tricot dress, made with plain full skirt and plain basque. Samples of tricot (or the goods) will be sent to any applicant so that the dresses may be made at home, or they can be made in the Dress-making Department as soon as they enter the School. The cost of all the materials for a dress will be about $4.

Dresses for daily school wear may be plain, dark-blue or black wool, or dark-blue and white calico.

Outside garments must be of either dark-blue or black material and simply made. The hats must be small, dark-blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers or flowers will be allowed.

Girls dressing in mourning will be permitted to wear only plain black wool, or black and white calico dresses. Dresses for closing exercises must be pure white, simply made.

Parents will please discourage any jewelry being brought to the School, and any hats, dresses or outside garments except the uniforms and a plain dress for house-work.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, over-shoes, two sheets, two pillow-cases and towels with her name plainly marked on each.

Terms.

For board, tuition, room-rent, bedding, fuel and lights in class and study-rooms, per month, payable in advance ----- $ 7 00

This amount is to be paid $5 in cash and $2 in labor.

Five cents per hour will be allowed for out-door labor. The labor must be performed within the month, and when assigned.

Tuition for Day Scholars, per month, in advance, 1 00

Music, on Organ or Piano (two lessons per week), per month ----- 2 00

Use of Instrument, per month ----- 25

Vocal Music in classes at no extra charge.

Students will purchase their own fuel and light for use in bedrooms or in the laundry. The girls will provide their own sheets.

In case of great need, an effort will be made to find aid for Postulants and candidates for Holy Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church, but self-help will always be kept in view.

General Information.

HISTORY AND OBJECT.

St. Augustine Normal School and Collegiate Institute was incorporated July, 1867, and opened January, 1868. Its threefold object is to afford young men and women, of the colored race, superior advantages for obtaining a thorough academic education, to train and equip teachers for efficient service, and to prepare young men for the Holy Ministry.

It is situated upon rising ground, one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh. Its site, near enough to the city for practical purposes, while sufficiently remote from its distractions and temptations, is a most eligible one for health, prospect, bracing air and pure water.

The buildings of the institution are five: The Main School building, the Smith building, the Principal's and Vice-Principal's residences and the Industrial building. The Main School building is a new structure of brick, four stories high, eighty-five feet front by forty-four feet deep. It contains all the class-rooms, the temporary chapel, the Principal's office, the library, and all the lodging-rooms for the young men. The rooms are all large and airy, and in the highest degree adapted to comfort and health. There is a supply of water on each floor. The Smith building, formerly the commodious residence of the late Rev. Dr. J. B. Smith, the founder of the institution, contains the lodging-rooms of the female students, kitchen, store-room and dining room for all the students. It was built with special reference to comfort and convenience, and has recently had water introduced into it. An addition fifty feet long is now being erected. It will contain, on the first floor, a room for the cooking-school and one for the dress-making department. The second and third floors will have commodious dormitories, containing private dressing-rooms.

The course in the Theological Department will include instruction in the Bible and Prayer-book, Christian Evidences, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History and Homiletics.

The extent of the Collegiate Department is shown by the studies presented. It embraces History (Ancient and Modern), Mathematics to Trigonometry, and so much of the Sciences and Classics as is necessary to make the student master of the more important facts and theories of Science, and to lay the basis of a thorough scholarship in the Greek and Latin languages.

In the Normal Department the course is arranged with reference to the wants of teachers in the Public Schools. Especial pains are taken to make the instruction thorough and efficient, and to educate competent teachers. In connection with this Department instruction will be given on the Methods of Teaching, the Organization and Management of Schools, etc.

PREPARATORY AND PRIMARY DEPARTMENTS.

Students who are not prepared to pass the examination for admission to the Academic or the Normal Department are admitted to classes in the Preparatory and Primary Courses.

ADMISSION.

The stated time for examination and admission is the first week of the term, and it is important that applicants be present at that time. All applications should be addressed to the Principal, and no person at a distance desiring to enter the institution should leave home for that purpose before receiving information from the Principal as to the certainty of admission. With each application for admission a certificate of good character from the last school or teacher should be sent to the Principal.

Persons of any state of advancement are admitted on any day of the session, and placed in the classes for which they are found, by examination, to be fitted.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two regular examinations of the classes in each course of study during the session, as follows: The first in January; the second in May. Besides these there are written and oral examinations of the various classes from time to time, for the purpose of testing the industry and proficiency of the students, and stimulating them in putting forth their best efforts, and performing the best work possible. No student will be allowed to drop a study or pass to a higher department who fails to receive 70 in that study.

Patrons and friends are cordially invited to visit the institution at any time, and to be present at the examinations.

DIPLOMAS.

Diplomas in both the Collegiate and Normal Departments are granted upon the satisfactory completion of these courses. There is a Diploma fee of $2.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

The J. Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

The Library and Reading-room are regarded as tending to aid materially in promoting the intelligence and liberal education of the students. The Reading-room is provided with the daily papers and monthly magazines and fixed hours are set apart for its use.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding-students attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and at night public worship in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at half past 8 A. M. on school-days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday-school instruction-book.

STUDY.

Students are expected faithfully to devote such a portion of their time out of class as is necessary to the thorough preparation of their lessons. In order to secure this result, a study is held each school-day evening (Friday excepted) from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock, under the direction of one of the teachers, at which all the students are required to be present.

LECTURES.

A short time is usually occupied each day in instruction by the Principal, or one of the Instructors, on the Bible, Book of Common Prayer, or some kindred topic. There are also occasional lectures before the Literary Society and the School on a variety of subjects—moral, historical, scientific, etc.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Instruction in sewing or in Dress-making is given to all the girls in the Boarding Department.

A special building has been erected for the young men's Industrial Department, containing a shoe-shop, carpenter's shop and tinsmith's shop.

This department has been well organized during the year and now offers instruction in carpentry, shoe-making, bricklaying and the tinner's art. It is under the direct supervision of the faculty.

During the coming year, in addition to sewing and dress-making, instruction will be given to the girls in the art of cooking and other branches pertaining to good house-keeping.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the institution assumes that the student is truthful and honorable until his conduct proves the contrary. Due care is exercised over the habits and morals of students. They are at all times under the immediate supervision of the Principal, his assistants, and the Matron.

By a judicious use of such incentives as a Roll of Honor for those whose average in Studies, Deportment and Punctuality is 90 or over, and merit marks; and also of demerit marks for violation of rules and tardiness, it is sought to stimulate the students to gain all the advantages of the institution, and fit them to become valuable members of society. When these means do not produce their legitimate effect in studiousness, deportment and punctuality, the name will be stricken from the roll.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities in its students, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by the Matron or a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

DRESS.

In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear on all public occasions the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark-blue tricot dress, made, without train, plainly, with skirt and basque separate, and without silk or velvet trimming. Shirt-waists of white and dark-blue and white calico are to be provided for warm weather. Only plain black or white ties may be worn. Samples of tricot (or the goods) will be sent to any applicant so that the dresses may be made at home, or they can be made in the Dress-making Department as soon as they enter the School. The cost of all the materials for a dress will be about $4.

Dresses for daily school wear must be plain, dark-blue wool or calico, or dark-blue and white calico.

Outside garments must be of either dark-blue or black material and simply made. The hats must be small, dark-blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers or flowers will be allowed.

Dresses for closing exercises must be pure white muslin, simply made. Girls dressing in mourning will be permitted to wear only plain black wool, or black and white calico dresses.

Parents will please discourage any jewelry being brought to the School, and any hats, dresses or outside garments except the uniforms.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, over-shoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases and towels with her name plainly marked on each.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work.

Terms.

For board, tuition, room-rent, bedding, fuel and lights in class and study-rooms, per month, payable in advance ----- $ 7 00

Five cents per hour will be allowed for labor. The labor must be performed when assigned.

Fee for incidentals, to be paid by all students on entering ----- 1 00

This covers the cost of lights and fuel in the girls' dormitories, and the use and washing of the sheets in the young men's building.

Meals sent to rooms, 5 cents each; on Sundays, 10 cents. Fuel and lights in Infirmary, to be paid for as used.

Music, on Organ or Piano (two lessons per week),
per month ----- 2 00

Use of Instrument, per month ----- 25

As a great injury has been done to other students by loss and delay in the payment of bills on the part of some of the students, hereafter the Principal will be obliged to require payment STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

Students will purchase their own fuel and light for use in bedrooms or in the laundry.

In case of great need, an effort will be made to find aid for Postulants and candidates for Holy Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church, but self-help will always be kept in view.

General Information.

THE PURPOSE OF THE SCHOOL is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, to train young men for the Holy Ministry, and, during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

THE SITUATION of the school is one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh; near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high ground, well drained, with good air and water from our own pure springs.

EQUIPMENT. In the way of buildings, there is a large four-story brick building containing chapel, recitation-rooms, and sleeping-rooms for the young men, an industrial building, with shops for shoemaking, carpentry, tin and sheet-iron working, and the Smith Building, which, with its recent additions, contains the dining-room, dormitories, cooking-school, sewing-room and reading-room. All the rooms are large, airy and well lighted. In the dormitories each girl has her own dressing-room, with locked closet, and all trunks are kept in a trunk-room, to which access is given once a week. While every effort is made to make the buildings attractive and home-like, St. Augustine's equipment is not so much in its buildings as in its teachers, whose constant aim is to impart thorough and efficient instruction and enforce faithfully the discipline of the school, which is counted an essential part of the training. Every opportunity will be given to students to make advancement, but there is no room in the school for lazy or immoral students.

THE COURSE OF STUDY includes:

In the Theological Department the studies necessary for the canonical examinations preparatory to Ordination;

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History;

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pædagogics, and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in the public and private schools.

DISCIPLINE. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms, and gentle manners are as much a part of the school-training as the daily recitations. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the school.

It is important that students should enter on the first day of the term and continue to the end of the session. A report is given to each student at the end of each month, which parents should require to be sent to them, in order to see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using. There is an examination in February and May. A general average is made of the month's averages and those of the examinations, and this general average is read at Commencement.

It will always be the aim of the school, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the school grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding-students attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday-school and at night public worship in the school Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at half past 8 A. M. on school-days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday-school instruction-book.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT. The girls have the care of the household and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in Sewing, Dress-making, and Cooking. In Sewing, a graded series of lessons is followed so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In Cooking, thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

For the young men instruction is available in Shoemaking, Carpentry, Tin and Sheet-iron Working, and Brick-laying. An effort will be made to extend trade instruction just as rapidly as means may be available.

THE BRINTON SMITH LITERARY SOCIETY meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION. All the students take part in Morning and Evening Prayer, which are said every day of the School year. Scripture instruction is given after Morning Prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all.

LECTURES. A course of lectures on physiology and hygiene is given by Dr. Scruggs, and other lectures are provided as opportunity offers.

TABLE. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is constantly made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven, recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread. Even without this a part of the School's supply of bread was sold last year and received great praise.

DRESS. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress (tricot is advised) made plainly, with skirt to clear the ground; shirt-waists of white cambric or dark blue calico with small white figures are to be provided for warm weather. Only plain neckties, either black, white or navy-blue may be worn. Basques must be plainly made. If buttons are used, they must be small and either black or blue. Skirts are to be separate from the waist in order that shirt-waists may be worn in hot weather. Sleeves must be made very simply. No ruffles, lace collars or other trimmings may be worn on the uniform dresses. Samples of tricot or the goods will be sent to any applicant so that the dresses may be made at home or the girls may make them as soon as they enter school. The cost of all the materials for a dress will be about $4.

Dresses for daily school wear must be plain, dark navy-blue wool or calico, or dark blue calico with very small white figures or dots.

Wraps must be of either dark blue or black material and simply made. The hats must be small, dark blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn.

Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white wash goods, made high in the neck, with tucks front and back, and belt of same material as the goods.

Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry, and of any hats, dresses or wraps except the uniforms. Girls dressing in mourning will be permitted to wear only plain black wool or black calico dresses with small white figures or dots.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, over-shoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases and towels, with her name marked plainly on each.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work.

General Information.

The Purpose of the School is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, to train young men for the Holy Ministry, and during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

The Situation of the School is one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh—near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high ground, well drained, with good air, and water from our own pure springs.

Equipment. In the way of buildings, there is a large four-story brick building, containing chapel, recitation-rooms and sleeping-rooms for the young men; an industrial building, with shops for shoemaking, carpentry, tin and sheet-iron working, and the Smith building, which, with its recent additions, contains the dining-room, dormitories, cooking-school, sewing-room and reading-room. All the rooms are large, airy and well lighted. In the dormitories each girl has her own dressing-room, with locked closet. All trunks are kept in a trunk-room, to which access is given once a week. While every effort is made to make the buildings attractive and homelike, St. Augustine's equipment is not so much in its buildings as in its teachers, whose constant aim is to impart thorough and efficient instruction, and enforce faithfully the discipline of the School, which is counted an essential part of the training. Every opportunity will be given to students to make advancement, but there is no room in the School for lazy or immoral students.

The Course of Study includes:

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History.

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pædagogics and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in the public and private schools.

Payments. The charges of the School are made very low so as to be within the reach of all. Being made thus low there is no room for any risk. Payments must be made in advance, at the beginning of each school month.. Students who are at all delinquent in their payments cannot expect to continue their recitations.

Discipline. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms and gentle manners are as much a part of the school training as the daily recitations. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the School.

It is important that students should enter on the first day of the term and continue to the end of the session. A report is given to each student at the end of each month, which parents should require to be sent to them, in order to see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using. There is an examination in February and May. A general average is made of the months' averages and those of the examinations, and this general average is read at Commencement.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding students attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church, and in the afternoon Sunday School, and at night public worship in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at half past 8 A. M. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday School Instruction Book.

Industrial Department. The girls have the care of the household, and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in Sewing, Dressmaking and Cooking. In Sewing, a graded series of lessons is followed, so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In Cooking, thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

For the young men instruction is available in Carpentry, Tin and Sheet-iron Working and Bricklaying. An effort will be made to extend trade instruction just as rapidly as means may be available. It is probable that a Wheelwright and Blacksmith Shop will be opened this year.

The Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty.

Religious Instruction. All the students take part in morning and evening prayer, which are said every day of the school year. Scripture instruction is given after morning prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all.

Lectures. A course of lectures on physiology and hygiene is given by Dr. Scruggs, and other lectures are provided as opportunity offers.

Table. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is constantly made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven, recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread.

Dress. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress (tricot is advised), made plainly, with skirt to clear the ground. Shirt-waists of white cambric and white calico with small black dots are to be provided for warm weather. Only plain neckties, either black, white or navy-blue, may be worn. Basques must be plainly made. If buttons are used, they must be small and either black or blue. Skirts are to be separate from the waist in order that shirt-waists may be worn in hot weather. Sleeves must be made very simply. No ruffles, lace collars or other trimmings may be worn on the uniform dresses. Samples of tricot and uniform calico, or the goods, will be sent to any applicant so that the dresses and shirt-waists may be made at home, or the girls may make them as soon as they enter school. The cost of all the materials for a tricot dress will be about $3.50. Dresses for daily school wear must be plain dark navy-blue wool or calico, or dark blue calico with very small white figures or dots. In order that all shall be alike, calicoes for dresses and shirt-waists must be purchased at the School.

Wraps must be of either dark blue or black material, and simply made. The hats must be small, dark blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn.

Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white wash-goods, made high in the neck, with tucks front and back, and belt of same material as the goods.

Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry, and of any hats, dresses or wraps except the uniforms. Girls dressing in mourning will be permitted to wear only plain black wool or black calico dresses with small white figures or dots.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, overshoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases and towels, with her name marked plainly on each.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work.

SCHOOL PRAYER.

O Lord and Heavenly Father, who art our true Peace and Love eternal, we beseech Thee to raise up friends and benefactors for this School of Christian instruction. Bless with Thy goodness those who have helped and are helping us, and may we who enjoy the benefit of their pious work show forth our thankfulness by rightly using the means Thou hast placed at our disposal, to the strengthening of our minds and the growth of our spirits in Thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Terms.

“Nowadays, with the inducements which schools for our people offer, there is hardly an excuse for a healthy boy or girl to be without some training. His hands should send him to school. The ‘scholarship’ which our boys and girls need most to-day is that which allows them the privilege of working out a part, if not all, of their education. The scholar that is boosted through college is often the one who must be boosted through life.”—From “Industrial Education,” by William B. Crittenden, A. B.

General Information.

The Purpose of the School is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, to train young men for the Holy Ministry, and during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

The Situation of the school is one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh—near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high ground, well drained, with good air, and water from our own pure springs.

Equipment. In the way of buildings, there is a large four-story brick building, containing chapel, recitation-rooms and sleeping-rooms for the young men; an industrial building, with shops for shoemaking, carpentry, tin and sheet-iron working; and the Smith building, which, with its recent additions, contains the dining-room, dormitories, cooking school, sewing-room and reading-room. All the rooms are large, airy and well lighted. In the dormitories each girl has her own dressing-room, with locked closet. All trunks are kept in a trunk-room, to which access is given once a week. While every effort is made to make the buildings attractive and home-like, St. Augustine's equipment is not so much in its buildings as in its teachers, whose constant aim is to impart thorough and efficient instruction, and enforce faithfully the discipline of the School, which is counted an essential part of the training. Every opportunity will be given to students to make advancement, but there is no room in the school for lazy or immoral students.

The Course of Study includes :

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History.

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pædagogics, and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in the public and private schools.

The Commencement is on the last Thursday in May. The session opens on the last Thursday in September.

Payments. The charges of the School are made very low so as to be within the reach of all. Being made thus low there is no room for any risk. Payments must be made in advance, at the beginning of each school month. Students who are at all delinquent in their payments cannot expect to continue their recitations. Students must be provided with sufficient money to buy their text-books. All students are charged $7 a month. Most pay $5 in cash and $2 in work. In special cases of need, by special arrangement only, less may be paid in cash and more in work.

Admission. Application for admission must be made on a blank form furnished by the Principal, and must be accompanied by a certificate of good character from the last school attended.

Discipline. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms and gentle manners are as much a part of the school training as the daily recitations. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the School.

It is important that students should enter on the first day of the term and continue to the end of the session. A report is given to each student at the end of each month, which parents should require to be sent to them, in order to see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using. There is an examination in February and May. A general average is made of the months' averages and those of the examinations, and this general average is read at Commencement.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding students attend public worship in the morning at St. Augustine's Church; and in the afternoon Sunday School, and at night public worship in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at half-past 8 A. M. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday School Instruction Book.

Industrial Department. The girls have the care of the household, and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in Sewing, Dressmaking and Cooking. In Sewing a graded series of lessons is followed, so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In Cooking, thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

For the young men instruction is available in Carpentry, Tin and Sheet-iron Working and Bricklaying. An effort will be made to extend trade instruction just as rapidly as means may be available.

The Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty.

Religious Instruction. All the students take part in morning and evening prayer, which are said every day of the school year. Scripture instruction is given after morning prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all.

Lectures. A course of lectures on physiology and hygiene is given by Dr. Scruggs, and other lectures are provided as opportunity offers.

Table. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is constantly made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven, recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread.

Dress. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress (serge is advised), made plainly, with skirt to clear the ground. Shirt-waists of white cambric and white calico with small black dots are to be provided for warm weather. Only plain neckties, either black, white or navy-blue, may be worn. Basques must be plainly made. If buttons are used, they must be small and either black or blue. Skirts are to be separate from the waist in order that shirt-waists may be worn in hot weather. Sleeves must be made very simply. No ruffles, lace collars or other trimmings may be worn on the uniform dresses. Samples of serge and uniform calico, or the goods, will be sent to any applicant so that the dresses and shirt-waists may be made at home, or the girls may make them as soon as they enter school. The cost of all the materials for a serge dress will be about $4.50. Dresses for daily school wear must be plain dark navy-blue wool or calico, or dark blue calico with very small white dots. In order that all shall be alike, calicoes for dresses and shirt-waists should be purchased at the School.

Wraps must be of either dark blue or black material, and simply made. The hats must be small, dark blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn.

Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white wash-goods, made high in the neck, and belt of same material as the goods.

Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry, and of any hats, dresses or wraps except the uniforms. Girls dressing in mourning will be permitted to wear only plain black wool or black calico dresses with small white figures or dots.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, overshoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases and towels, with her name marked plainly on each.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work.

SCHOOL PRAYER.

O Lord and Heavenly Father, who art our true Peace and Love eternal, we beseech Thee to raise up friends and benefactors for this School of Christian instruction. Bless with Thy goodness those who have helped and are helping us, and may we who enjoy the benefit of their pious work show forth our thankfulness by rightly using the means Thou hast placed at our disposal, to the strengthening of our minds and the growth of our spirits in Thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Terms.

“Nowadays, with the inducements which schools for our people offer, there is hardly an excuse for a healthy boy or girl to be without some training. His hands should send him to school. The ‘scholarship’ which our boys and girls need most to-day is that which allows them the privilege of working out a part, if not all of their education. The scholar that is boosted through college is often the one who must be boosted through life.”—From “Industrial Education,” by William B Crittenden, A. B

General Information.

The Purpose of the School is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, to train young men for the Holy Ministry, and during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

The Situation of the school is one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh—near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high grounds, well drained, with good air, and water from our own pure springs.

Equipment. In the way of buildings, there is a large four-story brick building, containing recitation-rooms and sleeping-rooms for the young men; an industrial building, with shops for shoe-making, carpentry, tin and sheet-iron working; and the Smith building, which, with its recent additions, contains the dining-room, dormitories, cooking-school, sewing-room and reading-room. All the rooms are large, airy and well lighted. In the dormitories each girl has her own dressing-room, with locked closet. All trunks are kept in a trunk-room, to which access is given once a week. While every effort is made to make the buildings attractive and home-like, St. Augustine's equipment is not so much in its buildings as in its teachers, whose constant aim is to impart thorough and efficient instruction, and enforce faithfully the discipline of the School, which is counted an essential part of the training. Every opportunity will be given to students to make advancement, but there is no room in the school for lazy or immoral students.

A Beautiful Stone Chapel has just been erected and is used for the daily services of the School. It has already proved useful in cultivating habits of reverence. It has an open-timbered roof, windows of stained cathedral glass, font, altar and baptistery of stone, tiled choir and sanctuary.

The Benson Library of stone is now in course of construction by means of a generous gift from a Christian woman of Brooklyn, N. Y.

An Industrial Building, 40x48 feet, where industrial work can go on under shelter, has been built during the past year.

A Hospital has been made from the former Principal's house and will be used as the home of those who are under instruction in the training school for nurses.

The Course of Study includes :

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History.

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pedagogics, and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in the public, private and parish schools.

The Commencement is on the last Thursday in May. The session opens on the last Thursday in September.

The Collegiate Department is now well equipped with men specially trained for this work. As will be seen by the list of teachers, all have received their degrees in reputable Colleges. Mr. Crittenden is a graduate of Oberlin College, and has been connected with the department for six years. Mr. Kennedy is a graduate of Maryville College, Tennessee, and Mr. Boyer has just been graduated from Yale University. The course of study has been carefully arranged with reference to the theological course of King Hall, Washington, D. C., and has been greatly encouraged and built up by the Church Commission for Work Among Colored People.

Payments. The charges of the School are made very low so as to be within the reach of all. Being made this low there is no room for any risk. Payments must be made in advance, at the beginning of each school month. Students who are at all delinquent in their payments cannot expect to continue their recitations. Students must be provided with sufficient money to buy their text-books. All students are charged $7 a month. Most pay $5 in cash and $2 in work. In special cases of need, by special arrangement only, less may be paid in cash and more in work.

Admission. Application for admission must be made on a blank form furnished by the Principal, and must be accompanied by a certificate of good character from the last school attended.

Discipline. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms and gentle manners are as much a part of the school training as the daily recitations. The use of tobacco is strictly forbidden. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the School.

It is important that students should enter on the first day of the term and continue to the end of the session. A report is given to each student at the end of each month, which will be sent to parents in order that they may see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using.

There is an examination in February and May. A general average is made of the months' averages and those of the examinations, and the honor-roll is read at Commencements.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding students attend public worship in the morning, Sunday-school in the afternoon and at night public worship in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at half-past 8 a. m., on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday School Instruction Book.

Industrial Department. The girls have the care of the household, and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in Sewing, Dressmaking and Cooking. In Sewing a graded series of lessons is followed, so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In Cooking, thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

For the young men instruction is available in Carpentry, Tin and Sheet-iron Working and Bricklaying. An effort will be made to extend trade instruction just as rapidly as means may be available.

Paying by Work. Students may work their way and go to School at night. From $10 to $12 a month will be allowed for work, from which the school charge will be deducted each month, leaving a credit for the next year.

A Training School For Nurses will be begun in September, 1896, under the instruction of competent physicians and the care of a regularly trained nurse, and a graduate in this course. No charge will be made for board or tuition, but candidates must have literary and moral qualifications sufficient to enter upon such a course of training. The work will be done in connection with a small hospital which will give the needed clinical practice.

The Brinton Smith Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty.

Religious Instruction. All the students take part in morning and evening prayer, which are said every day of the school year. Scripture instruction is given after morning prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all.

Lectures. A course of lectures on physiology and hygiene is given by Dr. Scruggs, and other lectures are provided as opportunity offers.

Table. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is constantly made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven, recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread.

Dress. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress for Sundays and public occasions and dark-blue calico with very small white dots, for week-days. In order that all shall be alike, calicoes for dresses and shirt-waists should be purchased at the School. Samples of serge and uniform calico, or the goods, will be sent to any applicant.

Wraps must be of either dark-blue or black material, and simply made. The hats must be small, dark-blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn. Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white lawn, made high in the neck, and belt of same material as the goods. Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry. Girls dressing in mourning will wear only black. In all cases, the matron will decide as to the propriety of the dress.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, overshoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases and towels, with her name marked plainly on each.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work. It is probable that some of the young men will this year purchase a uniform suit, costing about $7.50 for cap, coat and pantaloons.

SCHOOL PRAYER.

O Lord and Heavenly Father, who art our true Peace and Love eternal, we beseech Thee to raise up friends and benefactors for this School of Christian instruction. Bless with Thy goodness those who have helped and are helping us, and may we who enjoy the benefit of their pious work show forth our thankfulness by rightly using the means Thou hast placed at our disposal, to the strengthening of our minds and the growth of our spirits in Thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Terms.

"Nowadays, with the inducements which schools for our people offer, there is hardly an excuse for a healthy boy or girl to be without some training. His hands should send him to school. The 'scholarship' which our boys and girls need most to-day is that which allows them the privilege of working out a part, if not all of their education. The scholar that is boosted through college is often the one who must be boosted through life."—From "Industrial Education," by William B. Crittenden, A. B.

General Information.

The Purpose of the School is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, to train young men for the Holy Ministry, and during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

The Situation of the school is one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh—near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high grounds, well drained, with good air, and water from our own, pure springs.

The buildings include—

1. The Lyman building, four stories and of brick, with assembly-room, recitation rooms and sleeping rooms for the young men.

2. The Smith Building, with dining-room for all the students, study rooms and dormitories for the girls.

3. The stone Chapel, with an open-timbered roof, windows of stained cathedral glass, font, altar and baptistery of stone, tiled choir and sanctuary.

4. The Benson Library, a stone building for the school library, containing reading-room and a number of other rooms for meetings and other practical purposes.

5. St. Agnes Hospital, with room for twenty patients and ten nurses.

6. The Principal's house.

7. An Industrial Building, 40 x 48 feet, where work can go on under shelter.

The School property includes 110 acres.

The Course of Study includes:

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History.

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pedagogics, and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in the public, private and parish schools.

The Commencement is on the last Thursday in May. The session opens on the last Thursday in September.

In the Preparatory Department students are trained for the higher departments.

The Night School is for those students who are engaged in work during the day.

The Primary Department is for the children of the neighborhood, and holds its sessions in the afternoon.

THE KINDERGARTEN.

The Kindergarten was successfully started in October, 1896, under the care of Miss Edith E. Smith, and will be carried on in the future for the children of the neighborhood. There were 76 children enrolled during the last session.

As part of their Normal training, some of the students of the higher departments will have teaching assigned to them in place of their manual work, at hours which will not clash with the hours of their recitations.

Physical Culture. Instruction will be given to the girls in light gymnastics, and to the young men in military drill.

Terms and Payments. All students in the School are charged $7 a month for board and tuition, with a yearly incidental fee of $3. Students must be provided with sufficient money to buy their text-books. No deductions will be made for absence, except by previous arrangement.

There are four different departments, as follows:

1. Students in the regular course pay $5 a month in cash, and $2 in work. Payments must be made in advance, at the beginning of each school month. Students who are at all delinquent in their payments cannot expect to continue their recitations. In special cases of need, by special arrangement only, less may be paid in cash and more in work.

2. The nurses in the Training School give their services in nursing during the eighteen months they are under instruction in return for their board and tuition. They buy their own books and uniform dresses.

3. Students in the Industrial Department work all day and go to school at night. They receive a credit of from $7 to $12 a month for their work. From this the School charges are deducted, and the balance remains to their credit until used up by attendance in the regular course. They receive their wood, oil and washing free, but must pay their incidental fee in cash, and must buy their own books.

4. Students in the bricklaying or other training classes pay their board and tuition by their work without any additional credit, and go to school at night.

Each student receives at the end of the month a receipt for the amount of work he has performed. The responsibility to keep his account paid up, both in cash and work, is on the student.

Admission. Application for admission must be made on a blank form furnished by the Principal, and must be ac-accompanied by a certificate of good character from the last school attended.

Discipline. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms and gentle manners are as much a part of the school training as the daily recitations. The use of tobacco is strictly forbidden. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the School, and a student may at any time be asked to leave the School, even without flagrant offense.

It is important that students should enter on the first day of the term and continue to the end of the session. A report is given to each student at the end of each month, which will be sent to parents in order that they may see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using.

There are two terms, of four months each, with examinations in January and May. The monthly averages are taken together and averaged with the examination for a general term average, and these term averages are taken together for a general average of the year.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding students attend public worship in the morning, Sunday-school in the afternoon, and at night public worship in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at 8.30 A. M. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture.

Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday-school Instruction Book.

Industrial Department. The girls have the care of the household, and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in sewing, dressmaking and cooking. In sewing, a graded series of lessons is followed, so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In cooking, thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

BRICKLAYING CLASS.

A number of the young men work as carpenters, and in the tin-shop. During the last year a class has been maintained in bricklaying and stone-cutting work under a competent mason.

A Training School for Nurses was begun in September, 1896, under the instruction of competent physicians and the care of a regularly trained nurse, and a graduate in this course. No charge will be made for board or tuition, but candidates must have literary and moral qualifications sufficient to enter upon such a course of training. The work will be done in connection with St. Agnes Hospital which will give the needed clinical practice.

The Sutton Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty. Students who are not members of the Society are required to observe study-hour at the time of its meetings.

Rhetoricals. The last period on Friday is spent in Rhetorical exercises by students of the various classes.

Religious Instruction. The students take part in morning and evening prayer, which are said every day of the school year. Scripture instruction is given after morning prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all. The students form part of a congregation of Christian people, and are expected on each Lord's day to make an offering, which is placed on God's altar to be devoted to some Christian work or charity.

Lectures. A course of lectures on physiology and hygiene is given by Dr. Scruggs, and other lectures are provided as opportunity offers.

Table. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room, adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven, recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread.

Dress. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress for Sundays and public occasions and dark blue calico with very small white dots, for week-days. In order that all shall be alike, calicos for dresses and shirt-waists should be purchased at the School. Samples of serge, and uniform calico, or the goods, will be sent to any applicant. Wraps must be of either dark blue or black material, and simply made. The hats must be small, dark blue or black in winter, or white sailor hats in summer, and must be plainly trimmed. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn. Gloves, if worn, are to be blue or black. Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white lawn, made high in the neck. Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry. Girls dressing in mourning will wear only black. In all cases the Matron will decide as to the propriety of the dress.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, overshoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases and towels, with her name marked plainly on each.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work. Some of the young men purchase a uniform military suit, costing about $7.50 for cap, coat and pantaloons. It is not required, but it is highly desirable that all the young men should provide themselves with this uniform, which is a badge of honor, and may be forfeited by misconduct.

SCHOOL PRAYER.

O Lord and Heavenly Father, who art our true Peace and Love eternal, we beseech Thee to raise up friends and benefactors for this School of Christian instruction. Bless with Thy goodness those who have helped and are helping us, and may we who enjoy the benefit of their pious work show forth our thankfulness by rightfully using the means Thou hast placed at our disposal, to the strengthening of our minds and the growth of our spirits in Thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

General Information.

The Purpose of the School is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, to train young men for the Holy Ministry, and during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

The situation of the school is one mile east of Capitol in Raleigh—near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high ground, well drained, with good air, and water from our own, pure springs.

The buildings include—

1. The Lyman Building, four stories and of brick, with assembly-room, recitation-rooms and sleeping-rooms for the young men.

2. The Smith Building, with dining-room for all the students, study-rooms and dormitories for the girls.

3. The stone Chapel, with an open-timbered roof, windows of stained, cathedral glass, font, altar and baptistery of stone, tiled choir and sanctuary.

4. The Benson Library, a stone building for the school library, containing reading-room and a number of other rooms for meetings and other purposes.

5. St. Agnes Hospital, with room for twenty patients and ten pupil nurses.

6. The Principal's house.

7. An Industrial Building, 40x48 feet, where work can go on under shelter.

The School property includes 110 acres.

The Course of Study includes :

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History.

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pedagogics, and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in public, private and parish schools.

In the Preparatory Department students are trained for the higher departments. Students cannot be admitted until they are able to work long division readily.

The Night School is for those students who are engaged in work during the day.

The Primary Department is for children of the neighborhood, and holds its sessions in the afternoon.

The Kindergarten was successfully started in October, 1896, and is carried on for the children of the neighborhood. There were 68 children enrolled during the last session.

As part of their Normal training, some of the students of the higher departments will have teaching assigned to them in place of the manual work, at hours which will not clash with the hours of their recitations.

The Commencement is on the last Thursday in May. The session opens on the last Thursday in September.

Physical Culture. Instruction will be given to the girls in light gymnastics, and to the young men in military drill.

Terms and Payments. Boarding students are charged $7 a month of four weeks for board and tuition, with a yearly incidental fee of $3. Students must be provided with sufficient money to buy their text-books. No deductions will be made for absence, except by previous arrangement.

There are four different departments, as follows :

I. Students in the regular course pay $5 a month in cash, and $2 in work. Payments must be made in advance, at the beginning of each school month. Students who are at all delinquent in their payments cannot expect to continue their recitations. In special cases of need, by special arrangement only, less may be paid in cash and more in work. Arrangements made for one year do not hold over for another year unless definitely renewed.

2. The nurses in the Training School give their services in nursing during the eighteen months they are under instruction in return for their board and tuition. They buy their own books and uniform dresses.

3. Students in the Industrial Department work all day and go to school at night. They receive a credit of from $7 to $12 a month for their work. From this the School charges are deducted, and the balance remains to their credit until used up by attendance in the regular course. They receive their washing free, but must pay their incidental fee in cash, and must buy their own books, wood and oil.

4. Students in the bricklaying or other training classes pay their board and tuition by their work without any additional credit, and go to school at night.

Each student receives at the end of the month a receipt for the amount of work he has performed. The responsibility to keep his account paid up, both in cash and work, is on the student.

Admission. Application for admission must be made on a blank form furnished by the Principal, and must be accompanied by a certificate of good character from the last school attended.

Discipline. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms and gentle manners are as much a part of the school training as the daily recitations. The use of tobacco is strictly forbidden. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the School, and a student may at any time be asked to leave the school, even without flagrant offense.

It is important that students should enter on the first day of the term and continue to the end of the session. A report is made to each student at the end of each month, which will be sent to parents in order that they may see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using.

There are two terms, of four months each, with examinations in January and May. The monthly averages are taken together and averaged with the examination for a general term average, and these term averages are taken together for a general average of the year.

SEWING DEPARTMENT.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden.

Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding students attend service in the morning, Sunday-school in the afternoon, and service at night in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at 8.30 A. M. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each Student is required to have a Bible, Prayer-book, Hymnal and Sunday-School Instruction Book.

The interests of the young men are on the School grounds, and not in the city, which they are not expected to visit except for grave considerations. They are never to leave the School grounds except by permission of the officer in charge.

BRICKLAYING CLASS.

Industrial Department. The girls have the care of the household, and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in sewing, dressmaking and cooking. In sewing, a graded series of lessons is followed, so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In cooking, thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

Laundry. During the summer of 1898 it is expected that the "Elizabeth M. Graff Memorial Laundry" will be erected. Girls working in the laundry will be marked for their work.

A number of young men work as carpenters, and in the tin-shop. During the last year a class has been maintained in bricklaying and stone-cutting work under a competent mason.

ST. AGNES HOSPITAL.

A Training School for Nurses was begun in September, 1896, under the instruction of competent physicians and the care of a regular trained nurse, and a graduate in this course. No charge will be made for board or tuition, but candidates must have literary and moral qualifications sufficient to enter upon such a course of training. The work will be done in connection with St. Agnes Hospital, which will give the needed clinical practice.

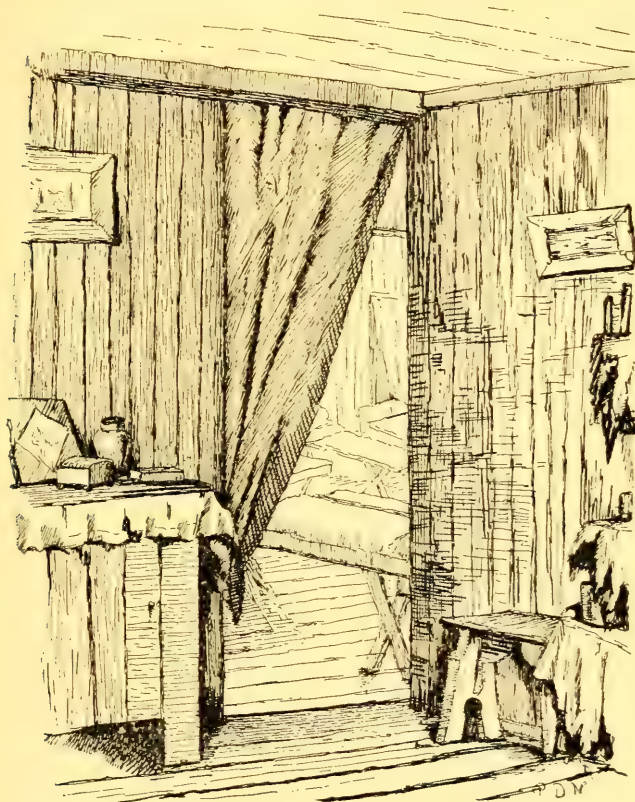

NURSES OF ST. AGNES HOSPITAL AND TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

The Sutton Literary Society meets on Friday evening of each week, and affords opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty. Students who are not members of the Society are required to observe study-hour at the time of the meetings.

Rhetoricals. The last period on Friday is spent in Rhetorical exercises by students of the various classes.

Religious Instruction. The students take part in morning and evening prayer, which are said every day of the school year. Scripture instruction is given after morning prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all. The students form part of a congregation of Christian people, and are expected on each Lord's day to make an offering, which is placed on God's altar, to be devoted to some Christian work or charity.

Lectures. A course of lectures on physiology and hygiene is given by Dr. Scruggs, and other lectures are provided as opportunity offers. •

Table. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room, adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven, recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread.

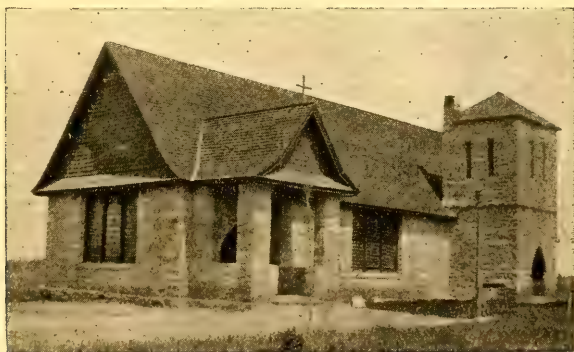

GIRLS' DORMITORY.

Dress. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress. In order that all shall be alike, materials should be purchased at the School. Samples of uniform goods will be sent to any applicant. Wraps must be either dark blue or black material, and simply made. Sailor hats must be worn—dark blue or black in winter, or white in summer—and must have a simple ribbon band. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn. Gloves, if worn, are to be blue or black. Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white lawn, made high in the neck. Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry. Girls dressing in mourning will wear only black. In all cases the Matron will decide as to the propriety of the dress.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, overshoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases, blanket and towels, with her name marked plainly. Keys for closets will be given on a deposit of 50 cents, to be returned when the keys are returned.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work. Some of the young men purchase a uniform military suit, costing about $7.50 for cap, coat and pantaloons. It is not required, but it is highly desirable that all the young men should provide themselves with this uniform, which is a badge of honor, and may be forfeited by misconduct.

EXTERIOR OF CHAPEL.

SCHOOL PRAYER.

O Lord and Heavenly Father, who art our true Peace and Love eternal, we beseech Thee to raise up friends and benefactors for this School of Christian instruction. Bless with Thy goodness those who have helped and are helping us; and may we who enjoy the benefit of their pious work show forth our thankfulness by rightfully using the means Thou hast placed at our disposal, to the strengthening of our minds and the growth of our spirits in Thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

THE PURPOSE OF THE SCHOOL is to train young men and women in the elements of an English education, to prepare them for teaching, to add collegiate studies for those who may be able to take them, and during the whole course, to add industrial education as far as possible, and, in general, to so train our students under the principles and discipline of Christian education that they may be ready to take their places in meeting the demands made upon them by modern society and civilization.

THE SITUATION of the school is one mile east of the Capitol in Raleigh—near enough to the city for convenience, remote enough to avoid many distractions and temptations. The buildings are on high ground, well drained, with good air, and water from our own, pure springs.

The buildings include—

1. The Lyman Building, four stories and of brick, with assembly-room, recitation-rooms and sleeping-rooms for the young men.

2. The Smith Building, with dining-room for all the students, study-rooms and dormitories for the girls.

3. The stone Chapel, with an open-timbered roof, windows of stained cathedral glass, font, altar and baptistery of stone, tiled choir and sanctuary.

4. The Benson Library, a stone building for the school library, containing a reading-room and a number of other rooms for meetings and other purposes.

5. St. Agnes Hospital, with room for twenty patients and ten pupil nurses.

6. The Principal's house.

7. An Industrial Building, 40x62 feet, where work can go on under shelter in bad weather.

The School Property includes 110 acres.

THE COURSE OF STUDY includes:

In the Collegiate Department, Latin, Greek, Natural Sciences, Geometry, Trigonometry, Ancient and Modern History.

In the Normal Department, Higher English Studies, Pedagogics, and other branches suited to the wants of teachers in public, private and parish schools.

In the Preparatory Department students are trained for the higher departments. Students cannot be admitted unless they are able to work long division readily.

The Night School is for those students who work during the day.

The Industrial Department is for students who are partially earning their way.

The Primary Department is for children of the neighborhood, and holds its sessions in the afternoon.

The Kindergarten was successfully started in October, 1896, and is carried on for the children of the neighborhood.

As part of their Normal training, some of the students of the higher departments will have teaching assigned to them in place of manual work, at hours which will not clash with the hours of their recitations.

The Commencement is on the last Thursday in May.

The session opens on the last Thursday in September.

PHYSICAL CULTURE. Instruction will be given to the girls in light gymnastics.

TERMS AND PAYMENTS. Boarding students are charged $7 a month of four weeks for board and tuition, with a yearly incidental fee of $3. Students must be provided with sufficient money to buy their text-books. No deductions will be made for absence, except by previous arrangement.

There are four different departments, as follows:

1. Students in the regular course pay $5 a month in cash, and $2 in work. PAYMENTS MUST BE MADE IN ADVANCE, ON STATED DAYS OF PAYMENT. Students who are at all delinquent in their payments cannot expect to continue their recitations. In special cases of need, by special arrangement only, less may be paid in cash and more in work. Arrangements made for one year do not hold over for another year unless definitely renewed.

2. The nurses in the Training School give their services in nursing during the eighteen months they are under instruction in return for their board and tuition. They buy their own books and uniform dresses.

3. Students in the Industrial Department work all day and go to school at night. They receive a credit of from $7 to $12 a month for their work. From this the School charges are deducted, and the balance remains to their credit until used up by attendance in the regular course. They receive their washing free, but must pay their incidental fee in cash, and must buy their own books, wood and oil.

4. Students in the bricklaying or other training classes pay their board and tuition by their work, with a small credit, and go to school at night.

Each student receives at the end of the month a receipt for the amount of work he has performed. The responsibility to keep his account paid up, both in cash and work is on the student.

ADMISSION. Application for admission must be made on a blank form furnished by the Principal, and must be accompanied by a certificate of good character from the last school attended.

DISCIPLINE. In general, the morning hours are given to recitations, the afternoon to industrial work, the night to study. Promptness in meeting every appointment of the daily routine is required of all students. Neatness in the care of rooms and gentle manners are as much a part of the school training as the daily recitations. The use of tobacco is strictly forbidden. A student's presence is not desired if there is any unwillingness to enter into the spirit of the School, and a student may at any time be asked to leave the school, even without flagrant offence.

It is important that students should enter on the first day and continue to the end of the session. A report is made to each student at the end of each month, which will be sent to the parents in order that they may see the degree of faithfulness which each student is using.

There are two terms, of four months each, with examinations in January and May. The monthly averages are taken together and averaged with the examination for a general term average, and these term averages are taken together for a general average of the year.

It will always be the aim of the School, not only to cultivate womanly qualities, but to throw the mantle of protection over all whom parents may entrust to its care. The girls are not allowed to visit outside the School grounds unaccompanied by a teacher. All communications between the two sexes, except by permission of teachers, are strictly forbidden. Daily morning and evening prayer are said in the Chapel. On Sundays the boarding students attend service in the morning, Sunday School in the afternoon, and service at night in the School Chapel. All students are required to be present in the Chapel at 8.30 A.M. on school days for devotional exercises and the catechetical lecture. Each student is required to have a Bible, Prayer Book, Hymnal and Sunday School Instruction Book.

SEWING DEPARTMENT.

The interests of the young men are on the School grounds, and not in the city, which they are not expected to visit except for grave considerations. They are never to leave the School grounds except by permission of the officer in charge.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT. The girls have the care of the household, and the young men the care of the grounds, farm and garden. The teachers take great pains in seeing that the students are trained in habits of neatness, thoroughness and gentleness. Instruction is given to the girls in sewing, dressmaking and cooking. In sewing a graded series of lessons is followed, so that skill is acquired in the use of the different stitches. In cooking thorough instruction is given in the elements of plain, wholesome cooking. Each department has its own room specially fitted up, and daily and regular lessons are given by thoroughly competent teachers.

LAUNDRY. The "Elizabeth M. Graff Memorial Laundry" is in course of erection. Girls working in the laundry will be marked for their work.

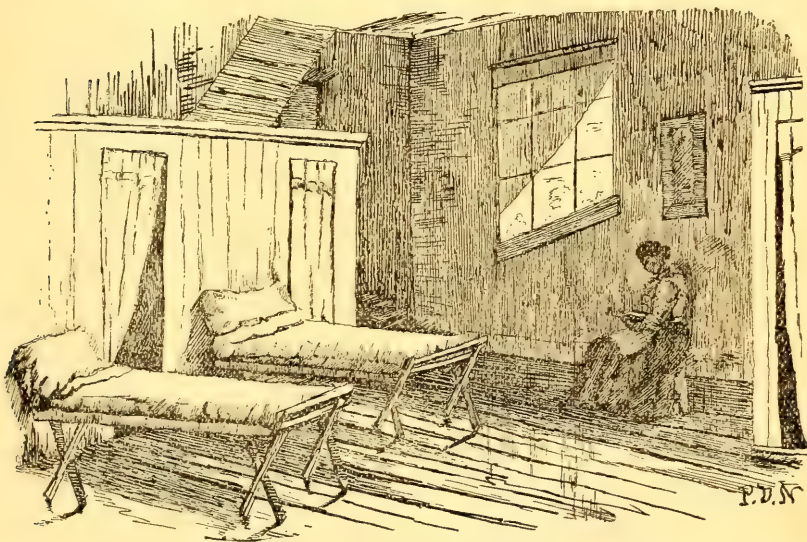

TRADE SCHOOL. A Trade School has been started with regular instruction in both the theory and practice in the following trades; Bricklaying, Carpentry and Printing. It is hoped that a suitable building may be erected in the near future, for the accomodation of these and other trades which will be added as soon as is practicable.

A TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES was begun in September, 1896, under the instruction of competent physicians and the care of a regular trained nurse, and a graduate in this course. No charge will be made for board or tuition, but candidates must have literary and moral qualifications sufficient to enter upon such a course of training. The work will be done in connection with St. Agnes Hospital, which will give the needed clinical practice.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES meet on Friday evening of each week, and afford opportunity for drill and culture in Composition, Declamation and Debate. While its appointments are in charge of its members, they are carefully enforced by the Faculty. Students who are not members of the Societies are required to observe study-hour at the time of the meetings.

RHETORICALS. The last period on Friday is spent in Rhetorical exercises by students of the various classes.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION. The students take part in morning and evening prayer, which are said every day of the school year. Scripture instruction is given after morning prayer. Short talks are often made by the Principal and teachers upon morals, manners and religion, and the constant effort is made to preserve a Christian atmosphere which shall bless the life of all. The students form part of a congregation of Christian people, and are expected on each Lord's day to make an offering, which is placed on God's altar, to be devoted to some Christian work or charity.

TABLE. The students meet for meals in the large, beautiful dining-room, adorned with pictures. An earnest effort is made to provide wholesome food. A large brick oven recently erected, will increase the facilities for providing well-made bread.

DRESS. In order to discourage extravagance in dress, every girl in the Boarding Department will be required to wear the uniform of the School, consisting of a dark navy-blue dress. In order that all shall be alike, material should be purchased at the School. Samples of uniform goods will be sent to any applicant. Wraps must be either dark blue or black material, and simply made. Sailor hats must be worn—dark blue or black in winter, or white in summer—and must have a simple ribbon band. No feathers, flowers or velvet are to be worn. Gloves, if worn, are to be blue or black. Dresses for closing exercises must be plain white lawn, made high in the neck. Parents will please discourage the bringing to school of any jewelry. Girls dressing in mourning will wear only black. In all cases the Matron will decide as to the propriety of the dress.

Every girl is required to have an umbrella, water-proof, overshoes, three sheets, two pillow-cases, blankets and towels, with her name marked plainly. Keys for closets will be given on a deposit of 50 cents, to be returned when the keys are returned.

The young men ought to have overalls or suitable clothing for out-door work. Some of the young men purchase a uniform military suit, costing about $7.50 for cap, coat and pantaloons. It is not required, but it is highly desirable that all the young men should provide themselves with this uniform, which is a badge of honor, and may be forfeited by misconduct.

School Prayer.

O Lord and Heavenly Father, who art our true Peace and Love eternal, we beseech Thee to raise up friends and benefactors for this School of Christian instruction. Bless with Thy goodness those who have helped and are helping us; and may we who enjoy the benefit of their pious work show forth our thankfulness by rightfully using the means Thou hast placed at our disposal, to the strengthening of our minds and the growth of our spirits in Thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN.
